TARIFF MEASURE BEFORE CAUCUS

Democratic Senators Look Over
Revised Underwood Bill.

IMPORTANT ALTERATIONS MADE

Measure as it Emerged From the Senate Finance Committee Pronounced a Distinct Victory For the President—First Time In History of Tariff Bill Making That the Senate Reduced House Rates.

Washington, June 21.—The Underwood tariff bill, as changed by the finance committee of the senate, was laid before the Democratic caucus of the members of the upper house. Several provisions of the measure were discussed informally.

The senate committee has made many and very important changes in the Underwood measure, but in none of them have the big general principles urged by President Wilson been turned down. The bill as it emerged from the senate finance committee is distinctly a victory for the president. It contains the provisions for free wool and ultimate free sugar. It retains meats and flour on the free list, and in addition adds cattle and other animals used for human food, and wheat which were taxed in the Underwood bill. In every way the measure as it comes from the senate committee conforms to the president's desire that duties be lifted from the necessities of life and increased on luxuries. Also the bill carries out the president's idea that the tariff on products of concerns which are regarded as trusts or monopolies should be materially lowered or put on the free list.

The bill now submitted to the Democrats of the senate for action will yield between five and six million dollars net in excess of the total that would flow from the measure as it came from the house. On the whole, however, the rates in the bill now are at a lower average than the average in the Underwood measure. The increase in revenue has been brought about through the imposition of a tax of 5 cents a bunch on bananas and through the restoration of a tax on brandy used in the fortification of pure sweet wines in the domestic industry.

Exception is made under the existing laws to brandy used in this way, so that it is at present yielding internal revenue at the rate of only 3 cents a gallon. The amendment inserted by the senate committee repeals this exception and restores the regular tax of $1.10 a gallon. It is estimated that this alone will yield $7,000,000 a year, and that the tax on bananas will bring in an additional $2,500,000.

The reductions made by the senate committee will have a net gain of about $5,000,000 over the house bill. This is the first time in the history of tariff bill making that the senate of the United States has reduced generally below the scale contained in the house bill.

Concern is expressed by some of the senate leaders over the effect on revenues from the proposed income tax changes decided upon by the senate committee, and final action will be postponed on this subject pending an estimate from the commissioner of internal revenue.

THE ICE STRIKE

Cincinnati, O., June 21.—The strike of the drivers and helpers of the ice companies and the engineers and firemen of the ice-making plants of this city spread to Newport and Covington, Ky., and there was an almost complete tieup of the ice trade in all three cities. Mayor Henry T. Hunt secured an emergency vote of $500 from council and bought up all available supplies of ice, which was sold at fire houses at cost.

A lunatic with a revolver in each hand ran into the Catholic school at Bremen, Germany, and killed three little girls, wounding 10 others. The teacher, Herr Mollmann, was fatally shot. The madman was captured.

Photos by American Press Association.

These interesting pictures have just arrived from Germany and show the formal dedication of the great stadium at Grunewald, near Berlin, which will be used for the Olympic games of 1916. At top are seen a few of the 30,000 athletes who took part in the opening games. They are doing acrobatic stunts into the great swimming tank. The lower picture is of a typical group of little German girls who were as merry as larks over their part in the gymnastic exhibition. They fairly beam with health and good spirits. At this stadium American athletes will attempt to carry off the most honors three years hence. The stadium is a permanent athletic field.

ALL WARNED NOT TO RETURN

Trouble Likely to Follow the Drastic Action of Four Hundred Union Miners Employed in Hocking County, Ohio, Mines—Delegates Selected to Confer With State Mine Officials at Columbus.

Carbon Hill, O., June 21.—Complications will likely follow the action of 400 union coal miners who forced from mines near Carbon Hill 12 nonunion American miners and threatened them with violence should they return and violate the agreement between the union and the mine operators.

The miners laid down their tools in the mines of Snake Hollow, New Pittsburgh and Sand Run. They carried their dinner pails, were dressed in their working clothes and marched under the American flag to the Cable mine, a mile east of Carbon Hill, and to the Atlantic Coal company's mine, one mile north.

Nonunion miners were carried out bodily to a mass meeting near here, where they were warned that they

KAISER HAPPY

Recounts Progress Germany Has Made Under 25 Years of Peace.

Berlin, June 21.—A rescript by the kaiser is published here by Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg. In part it says:

"I thank God that I can look back with satisfaction on the past 25 years of serious work and the great acquisition they have brought to the Fatherland. That this happened under the fertilizing rays of the sun of peace, the strength of which victoriously dispelled every cloud of the horizon makes me particularly happy."

The kaiser then refers to the numerous institutions which were established in commemoration of the celebration and says: "The jubilee has thus become the source of a stream of blessings for German lands even for coming generations. With joy and emotion I express my warmest thanks to every individual who has thought of me."

MILITANTS MOBBED

Rahway, N. J., June 21.—While trying to save the lives of his workmen, Frank Allen, 50, of Sunbury, Pa., was instantly killed. He was on a bridge superintending construction work when a public service cable, charged with 13,000 volts, fell near the workmen. To save the men Allen tried to push it off with a stick, but the cable struck him in the chin. He ran a few yards and fell dead.

Top of the Loftiest Peak.

HEIGHT PLACED AT 20,500 FEET

Series of Earthquakes Had Shaken the Higher Ridges of the Mountain and Loosened Boulders and Shattered Ice Made the Trip Particularly Hazardous—Splendid Weather Conditions Prevailed During the Ascent.

Seattle, Wash., June 21.—Word has reached here of the successful ascent of Mount McKinley by Archdeacon Hudson Stuck. The message stated that he reached the summit of the mountain on June 7. Archdeacon Stuck is a missionary of the Episcopal church, whose home is in Fairbanks, Alaska. He set out three months ago for the trip. The dispatch states that the scaling party was able to discern a flagpole that the Thomas Lloyd expedition in 1910 put up on one of the lower peaks. The explorer believes that the accuracy of his instruments, coupled with the splendid weather conditions prevailing, will give an unusually correct calculation as to the exact height of the mountain when his observations have been figured out. The present estimate of the summit's height is 20,500 feet.

Archdeacon Stuck and his companions, H. P. Karstens, R. G. Tatum and Walter Harper, knelt in prayer and recited the thanksgiving service of church and then later erected a six-foot cross on the summit.

According to the dispatch the party has no doubt that the ascent of the highest point of North America was made. The weather was such that an uninterrupted view convinced the archdeacon and his companions they had reached the highest pinnacle of the mountain, the south point.

They followed a route that had been opened up by earthquakes last summer. These had shaken the higher ridges of the mountain and partly loosened boulders and shattered ice made the trip particularly hazardous.

SECRETARY, TOO, GETS STRENUOUS

WILSON WOULD AMEND THE ERDMAN ACT

Bill of Railroads and Employees
Encounters Opposition.

Washington, June 21.—Vigorous opposition from the new department of labor to the proposed arbitration and mediation act, prepared by the railroads and railroad brotherhoods for enactment by congress, was voiced when the measure was presented to a joint session of the house and senate interstate commerce committee.

Secretary Wilson criticised the new measure as going beyond the necessities of the hour. He suggested that the only emergency legislation needed was an increase of the size of the board of mediators under the Erdman act. This, he said, could be effected by an amendment to the act, rather than by substituting a new one. He is not in favor of creating a bureau of mediation.

Seth Low president of the National Civic Federation, champions the new measure.

CHARTER COMMISSION FOR THE CITY OF WASHINGTON

Petitions Directed to City Council Are Being Circulated for the Signatures of the Voters of the City.

Do you desire to obtain a more efficient and more economic city government for Washington? That is the question now directed to the voters of this city.

If you do, sign the petition requesting Council to grant the opportunity to select fifteen citizens at the coming primary elections, to serve, without compensation, whose duty it shall be to formulate a plan of government, subject to the approval of the electors of the city and under which plan, if adopted by the electors, we may have a more satisfactory government.

The work of the present city administration is not in issue. It is with the form of government only, at this time, that the efforts for betterment are being directed.

The voters of Columbus, Dayton, Springfield and other cities have expressed their dissatisfaction with present forms by electing Charter Commissions.

Every voter who is in favor of making a determined effort to better Washington's present plan of government, should sign one of these petitions in order that Council may act.

CHALLENGES THE WORLD TO BEAT RECORD MADE

Mayor Charles Vallery, of Waverly, Driving Fayette County Horse, Establishes Record in Long Distance Dash.

DRIVES 30 MILES OVER HILL
ROADS IN JUST 119 MINUTES.

Wins Wager of $300 and Now Offers $1,000 to Any One Driving Same Distance in Less Time—Feat Attracts Widespread Attention to Former Fayette County Horse.

Widespread interest has been attracted by a feat accomplished this week by Mayor Chas. Vallery, of Waverly, who drove "Lewis W", a horse purchased in this city, from Waverly to Portsmouth, a distance of 30 miles in one hour and fifty-nine minutes, winning a wager of some $300 which Dr. Geo. B. Nye of that place is said to have staked.

Since the wonderful feat, Mayor Vallery, who is well known in this county, and is a brother to Oscar Vallery, has issued a challenge to the world, offering $1,000 for any animal that can make the trip in less time, than that it required him to drive the distance, which is through hill country and none too smooth.

Vallery started at 6:05 in the evening and reached a given point in Portsmouth just a few seconds before 8:04. Two hours was the time allowed in the wager.

When he pulled up in Portsmouth after the long drive the plucky ex-Fayette county horse did not show the effects of the trip to any marked degree, and when taken to a nearby barn he ate the feed set before him, and after resting until the next day was driven back to Waverly where a large crowd had assembled to witness the return.

Lewis W was purchased in this county a year or two ago, and when purchased by Mr. Vallery he intended using the animal for a delivery horse, but he developed considerable speed and has been attracting no little attention before the last marvelous feat.

Lewis W was sired by Bobby Bogan, 2:14 1/4. He is six years old and weighs 1120 pounds. Victor V is another name given the horse.

The world's record on long distance trotting was made by General Taylor, in 1857, when he trotted 20 miles in one hour, 47 minutes and 59 seconds. This feat was performed on smooth roads, however.

DENNER WOMAN SENT BACK HOME

Supt. Seney, of the Infirmary sent Nora Denner to the Infirmary in Fayette county. The girl, who is 19 years old, had been discharged from the local hospital last Saturday night and was not very anxious to go to Washington C. H., but Mr. Seney insisted, and declared he would send her with an officer if necessary.

The girl was at one time an inmate of the Ross county Children's Home. But about seven years ago was taken in charge by a Fayette county couple, and given an excellent home. Several weeks ago she ran away, and came to Ross county, only to be stricken with appendicitis. She was removed to the hospital, and an operation performed, the Fayette board agreeing to pay the bill for her care.

To add to her misfortune the girl is about to become a mother. On Saturday when she left the hospital, she went to a family on Chestnut street and asked for a rooming place and asked for care for a few days, which was granted. Nora would have preferred to go to the Ross County Infirmary, because she has a mother and sister there, but Supt. Seney said no and to Washington she went today. —Chillicothe Advertiser.

HAYS TRANSFERRED TO STATE HOSPITAL

Harry Hays, the young man who recently became violently insane as the result of an injury to the brain sustained in a runaway accident three weeks ago, is no better, and following a turn for the worse Thursday he was transferred from the private sanitarium in which he had been confined, to the State Hospital.

Word received Friday was that he had rallied slightly, but his condition is regarded as serious. He is receiving the best of attention, and his case has been somewhat of a puzzle to the various physicians who have attended him.

B. & O. ERECTING PUMPING STATION

The B. & O. railroad has a large force of men engaged in installing a pumping station immediately south of the bridge over Paint Creek near the coal dump, and within the next few days the station will be furnishing water to the 50,000 tank opposite the depot, and the pipes of the local water company will be disconnected.

The building of the plant grew out of the sudden turning off of the water supply early this week, when part of the source of supply at the water company's plant was cut off by the breaking of a pump for compressed air line.

Only a very short notice was given the railroad by the water company, and as a result two or three engines died here for want of water. No satisfaction being given the road as to when water would again be turned on, it is claimed, the road took matters in its own hands and ordered material and men rushed here to install a pump.

The pump will have a capacity of some 7,000 gallons every hour, and will be kept running night and day, drawing water from the creek. As the road uses an average of 70,000 gallons each day, the pump will be kept going most of the time.

The water pressure, even after the water was turned off at the B. & O. and D. T. & I. railroads, was very low this week, and fire protection would not have been the best by any means.

MOTHER OF SEVEN WANTS A DIVORCE

Carrie E. Lloyd filed action in Common Pleas court Friday for divorce from William Lloyd, charging him with gross neglect of duty. Gregg Patton and Gregg are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Lloyd, who is the mother of seven children, ranging in years from two to nineteen, states that she was married to the defendant on February 28, 1893, and that her husband has failed to provide for her for some time, and has been addicted to the drink habit, cursing and abusing herself and children and disturbing the peace of the neighborhood.

On March 25th he left her and went to Springfield, contributing $2 toward the support of herself and family during that time, according to the plaintiff.

She asks divorce, alimony and custody of the minor children.

HOG-RAISERS WILL BE ASKED TO CO-OPERATE

Now that the State Board of Agriculture has voted to use the $20,000 appropriation made by the legislature to stamp out hog cholera in Fayette county, the people will be interested in the announcement that within a short time four men, under charge of Dr. Paul Fisher, state veterinarian, will arrive in this city and begin a general canvass.

These men will divide the county by townships and will visit every farm to secure co-operation, find where cholera is prevalent at this time and where the disease has been known in the past. In fact they will conduct a campaign to gather complete information upon which to lay the groundwork for the big fight against the disease. Every hog raiser in Fayette county will be asked to co-operate. Following this work plans will be formulated by Dr. Fisher and assistants and the actual work of treating hogs will begin all over the county by a large force of trained men.

CARRIES BONES IN POCKET

R. B. Irvin, an aged veteran and a member of the 51st O. V. I. attended the Encampment and was one of hundreds who visited the Herald office. Mr. Irvin was shot in wrist of the right arm during the war, the bullet, an ounce ball, plowing its way up to the elbow joint. At the elbow the bullet passed around and over the joint and continued up the arm nearly to the shoulder. The ball and parts of the bones were cut out within a week and Mr. Irvin carries these mementoes in his pocket.

The arm is withered to a mere semblance of its former condition.

ENUMERATION OF SCHOOL YOUTH SHOWS DECREASE

Washington Gains 24 Over Figures Returned Last Year, Many Districts Show Same Number, Others Decrease and Only Three Increases Are Indicated by Enumerator's Statistics—Four More Boys Than Girls in This City.

According to figures compiled by the enumerator of persons in the city of a school age, the number has increased 24 over that of last year, when the report showed 2464 persons of a school age, or between the ages of 6 and 21 years.

And there are just four more boys than girls or 1246 boys and 1242 girls between the ages of 6 and 22 years in this city.

Reports from other districts for the most part show decreases, while Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Mill-edgeville and Marion township show the same number as enumerated last year, and some doubt seems to exist as to whether or not all reports are absolutely correct.

Of the reports filed, Concord, with 158 youth of school age, shows an increase of 18 over last year. Green township had 238 last year and 210 this year; Jasper has dropped from 370 to 351 this year; Jefferson has not filed, but had 465 last year; Madison dropped from 283 to 279; Marion has 208; Paint showed 420 last year and only 386 this year, while Perry comes along with 205—a decrease of 5; Union had 526 and Wayne 353 last year, but have not reported this year. Bloomingburg still has 183, Jeffersonville 201, Mill-edgeville 83 and White Oak 62, a gain of three. The enumeration of the Children's Home last year showed 26.

Last year the total number of pupils in the county was 6229, and if there is an increase over that number this year it will be very small.

In this city there are 341 pupils 6 to 8 years of age; 728 between the ages of 9 and 13; 284 between the ages of 14 and 16 and 1135 between 17 and 21 years old.

Of the 12 districts filing reports out of 15, there was a total loss of 47 over last year's enumeration.

DEATH ANGEL CALLS YOUNG WIFE

Bringing untold sorrow in its wake came the call of the death angel early Saturday morning to Mrs. Hallie H. Whelpley, wife of Mr. James Whelpley, at the home on N. Hinde street. It was a summons that released a brave spirit from months of suffering, borne with beautiful patience, but it was a summons that leaves the home terribly desolate and the husband and two young daughters, Marion and Janet bereft of a rarely devoted wife and mother. A number of close relatives and friends, are likewise deeply saddened by the untimely calling of a young woman, endowed with unusual gifts for a happy, useful life. As a young girl, Hallie Dixon, was well known as a reader and after her marriage generously continued to give pleasure by her talent. She also taught elocution in the Stinson Conservatory until her health began to fail about a year ago.

Actively connected with the O. E. S. No. 29, she was a highly valued member of the chapter and her loss will be greatly felt among its members.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Grace church. The Eastern Star will have charge of the services.

Burial in Washington cemetery.

HONORED GUESTS TAKE DEPARTURE

Very few veterans remained in the city Friday morning after the various trains had taken their departure. As soon as the Grand Army parade was over Thursday afternoon there was a general movement among the visitors to return home, and all of the evening trains were packed.

Friday morning all trains again were packed to the steps, and once more the city began to resume normal conditions, with the trampled court house lawn, littered streets and floating banners and other decorations the only indication of what had just taken place.

The work of pulling down the decorations commenced late in the morning, and when the Saturday crowd assembled in the city there will be little indication that the State Encampment of the G. A. R. was held here this week.

Hundreds of persons, worn out by the constant work occasioned by the big crowd of visitors, are now enjoying a good and much needed rest.

ALL MUCH PLEASED WITH ENCAMPMENT

Veterans who attended the encampment here this week were most profuse in their expressions of pleasure over the manner in which they had been received and entertained in the city during the big event, and not only did the veterans express their delight, but the other organizations joined in their words of appreciation.

Virtually all organizations adopted resolutions in which thanks were extended to the Encampment Committee and the city.

The G. A. R. in the last session, adopted resolutions expressing their profuse thanks for the kindness shown and the loyal entertainment afforded. In addition to extending a vote of their appreciation to the city and the Committee, additional thanks were extended to Col. B. H. Millikan for his untiring efforts and attention. All voted the encampment a decided success.

Mrs. Eliza E. Boyd, Aged Philanthropist of Good Hope Leaves $1,600 to W. F. M. S., and Gives Valuable Property to Good Hope M. E. Church—Will Filed Saturday in Probate Court.

The Good Hope Methodist Episcopal church and the Woman's Foreign Missionary society are among the beneficiaries of the late Eliza E. Boyd, of Good Hope, who passed away on June 12th after a long life of usefulness and work in the M. E. church, leaving a will which was filed for probate Saturday morning. The will is dated August 11, 1910, and William Crosby is made the executor of the instrument. D. L. Thompson, A. N. Creamer and Lelia Counts are witnesses to the document.

After ordering all of her just debts paid she bequeaths a valuable property consisting of one acre in Good Hope, to the M. E. church of Good Hope, and $1,000 to the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the United States, the amount to be used as the officers of the society think best.

All household goods, kitchen furniture and chattels are to be divided up among her sisters, Mary Sayers, Hulda Phillips, Sallie Wilson and her niece, Lyda M. Morris and the children of her deceased sister, Susan Knedler, Mary Sayre and Lyda Morris to make the division.

All of her estate with the exception of that noted above is ordered sold and converted into money to be divided up; $3,000 going to Christian Nisewander; $1,400 to her sister, Mary Sayers; $500 to her niece, Lyda M. Morris, and the remainder to C. B. Sayers, Fred M. Sayers, Ledia M. Morris and Christian Nisewander.

During her life the aged benefactress was a loyal church worker and always took great pleasure in her work, and the manner in which she remembered her church and the W. F. M. S. is proof of the love that filled her heart.

DAYTON PLANNING GREAT CELEBRATION

Dayton, O., is going to have one of the greatest Fourth of July celebrations in its history. Dayton wants to show the world that she has entirely recovered from the flood and is trying to forget all about it. The celebration on the Fourth will be entirely free. There will be athletic events contested by the most famous athletes in the middle west.

In addition to the athletic events, Mr. Orville Wright, the world's most famous air-man, will make a flight over the grounds in a hydroplane. He will start on the river, adjacent to the fair grounds, fly over the city and alight at the place of beginning. This will be the first opportunity that people in this section will have to witness a hydroplane flight. There will also be children's exercises and singing by a grand chorus of 1000 voices. In the evening there will be the grandest display of fireworks ever held in Dayton.

In this way Dayton is going to celebrate her recovery from the flood.

C. H. & D. TIED UP BY BURNED BRIDGE

As a result of the burning of two 30 foot sections of the C. H. & D. bridge over Caesar creek near New Jasper at an early hour Friday morning, traffic on the C. H. & D. was completely tied up until Saturday, transfers being made by the passenger trains.

The structure is the same one that collapsed under a freight train about one year ago, killing two men and ditching a dozen cars.

Fire is supposed to have started from coals dropped from an engine, and the blaze was not discovered until some time later when two sections of the bridge had been destroyed. A freight crew saved the big bridge from complete destruction.

As the bridge is constructed entirely of wood and was dry as tinder it fell easy prey to the flames.

CHARLES SNYDER BUYS XENIA BAKERY

Mr. Chas. D. Snyder, who disposed of his bakery in this city several weeks ago, has purchased the Henry Gottendick bakery of Xenia, and will take charge of his new business within a short time.

Mr. Snyder's nephew, Clarence Dykes, who has been associated with him in the business here, will move to Xenia at once and take charge of the business during Mr. Snyder's absence, as he has purchased an interest in the business.

For the time being, at least, Mr. Snyder and family will continue to reside here.

YOUNG MAN FACES SERIOUS OFFENSE

Ralph Self, 16, living a few miles from Waterloo, is under bond for his appearance before the next Pickaway county grand jury, charged with cutting to kill Ralph Keller, 18.

The two young men were attending a social at Dublin Hill near Waterloo recently, and after exchanging a few words Self drew a knife and stabbed Keller in the right breast, inflicting an ugly gash, but fortunately his clothing saved him from a knife wound in the lung.

Young Self is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Self, and is well known in northeastern Fayette.

HAVOC WROUGHT BY HEAVY STORMS

Madison county suffered greatly from electrical storms during the past few days, two large barns being struck by lightning and burned to the ground, William Murphy, a farmer, was instantly killed by a thunder bolt, and much live stock, including several horses, cattle, sheep and swine, met instant death by lightning.

In addition to the above no little damage was done to growing crops.

We Are Big Enough

Washington is not one of the great cities of the land by any manner of means but Washington is one of the thriving small cities of the land and as such is making just as much progress and does just as much business as any big city in the country, in proportion to its size.

That fact being acknowledged as true, it must also be acknowledged that proportionately Washington is afflicted with the same ills which go hand in hand with real thrift, as her sister cities, and is therefore entitled to have applied, proportionately at least, the same methods of doing away with or controlling those ills and annoyances.

At the present time Washington is suffering from the smoke nuisance and volumes of black sooty smoke are just the same in Washington as in New York, Chicago or Cincinnati.

Smoke is just as annoying in this city when it is belied forth into the atmosphere unnecessarily as it is in the large cities mentioned.

Right in the heart of Washington's shopping district there are a number of chimneys which pour forth at a low elevation great quantities of filthy black smoke.

It blows into office and store windows, keeps the furniture in a constant grim and the human occupants in a wheezy, choked condition.

The city is plenty big enough to warrant the authorities in putting a stop to this smoke nuisance. No man has a right to make his business a nuisance to others.

This smoke nuisance has been mentioned many times before and it is time to put a stop to it.

Size isn't at all necessary to vest in a municipality the authority to look after the health and comfort of its citizens.

In Touch With Public Sentiment

Governor Cox in his address at Wheatfield, the Wooster, Ohio, Experiment station, on Friday, declared that he would recommend the enactment of legislation which would disfranchise men who refuse to exercise the franchise right.

This announcement follows logically after the statement made by the Governor in his speech to the old soldiers in this city last Wednesday that party walls were being torn down, layer by layer, and the barbed wire of prejudice removed from the top.

The Governor is right in both instances and his open declarations are proof that he is in perfect accord with the demand of the times.

People have come to realize fully—the majority of them have—that voting is a patriotic duty which every loyal citizen should perform, and that the exercise of the priceless privilege of franchise should be actuated by patriotism and not by the desire for individual gain.

This land and this people have become too great to be ruled by the votes of a few who want office only, and the people have become too intelligent to allow the party walls erected by selfish, place hunters to hold them back from the performance of a solemn duty—voting as their conscience and their reason dictate.

Men who refuse to vote unless bought by the hope of personal gain, men who have lost sight of the real duty to vote, the underlying cause for the existence of the right of franchise should be denied the right to exercise that privilege for selfish motives.

The people have advanced and are advancing. Governor Cox knows that, and the speech at Wheatfield and the speech in this city are proof that he is marching along with the head of the column.

American Women Can't Cook

By Miss WINIFRED S. GIBBS, Home Economist, of New York

THE RANK AND FILE OF AMERICAN WOMEN ARE NOT GOOD COOKS.

Judging from what I hear and see of the households run on an income of twelve hundred dollars or so, I should say that they are as much in NEED OF PROFESSIONAL ADVICE about cooking and food values as the poorer ones.

THEY DON'T SEE THE POSSIBILITY OF DOING THINGS ON SMALL INCOMES; THEY BECOME DISCOURAGED AND GET THE HABIT OF HAVING THE SAME THINGS OVER AND OVER AGAIN JUST BECAUSE THEY DON'T KNOW ANY BETTER.

Always the same! That seems to be a FAILING OF HOUSEHOLDS all up and down the line. It's tea and bread for the poor, it's stew and buns for those who can afford these luxuries, and it's lamb and peas, beef and beans, for the well to do who get into a gastronomic rut. The pre-nuptial complaint, "WHAT, HASH AGAIN?" is not limited to any one household.

Poetry For Today

TRUANT DAYS.

Friend to the birds and bandit bees
That robbed the early cherry trees—
The kildie's kin, who used to call
Me where some little waterfall
With pranks laughter made escape
Neath tangled arbors where the grape

Bodded with rather June promise of Autumnal vintage rare as love—
There by the old forgotten ways,
What memories of my truant days!
Far from the buzzing, dull school room,
Upon the creek bank freaked with bliss.

I sprawled beside the shelving brink
Where placid cattle came to drink,
And heard, as one hears in a trance,
The brusquer stress and circumstance
Of far-off worlds, their pulse and hum
Commanding me to rise and come
And with some place within the strife
Of larger things, where blows are rife,
And musing, dreamed what it might be.

The Greater World held out to me—
Perchance, far down the little stream,
The shallows glanced where perch or bream
Leapt at some flaunting dragon fly
In languid splendor floating by;
Or through the tree trunks big and brown

Came tufts of dandelion down
Like ghostly prophets that foretold
The death of all the summer's gold,
Or scurrying squirrels mocked at me
From some hale-bodied walnut tree,
Perhaps, no bluer than the sky,
A roost of jaybirds blustered by,
O shifting visions, flitting wings,
Or misty, vague forebodings

What have I found since half so good
As just to lie within a wood,
Demised beside a winding creek
And listen to the Silence speak?
What thing so good in work or play
As one lost, drowsy truant day?

One hundred thousand bushels of potatoes lying on the railroad tracks in Minneapolis will be given to the poor and to charity institutions. A local produce company is conferring with the railroad companies about giving the potatoes to charity provided the roads would cancel freight charges. The extraordinary congestion of old crop potatoes is said to be partly due to the arrival of new potatoes from the South.

President Wilson told Col. Croft last week that he would certainly visit the Panama canal at the close of Congress and give an indication of when he expected the session to end by stating that this probably would be in September. Col. Croft said if it were necessary he could hold back the letting in of water into the canal for a couple of weeks so that the President might be on hand to witness this final chapter in the waterways construction.

At the time of the panic in 1907 the Steel Corporation, according to Chairman Gary, had $75,000,000 in New York City banks. He said the offer to loan $5,000,000 to Wall street stock brokers during the panic was made in good faith. Asked as to the trust's bank balance at the present time, Judge Gary replied: We have only about $65,000,000 on deposit.

The first fire-cracker accident of the season occurred in Cincinnati yesterday when Ernest Tiller, 15, placed a giant cracker in a small cask, lit the cracker, and plugged up the hole in the barrel through which he had inserted it and waited blissfully for the explosion. It came and the barrel was blown to pieces and a slave struck the boy in the head, inflicting a deep wound.

"BRAKES NO GOOD!" ENGINEER POINTS OUT HIS REPORT MADE BEFORE WRECK; PRESIDENT MELLEN

Engineer Charles J. Dougherty's story of why his engine plowed its way into the Pullman Skylark of the first section of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Express at Stamford, Conn., aroused interest the country over. He pointed out at the Coroner's inquest where he had written the words "Brakes No Good" in the roundhouse complaint book two days before the accident. He said he discovered the first time he ran the express, which was only three days before the smashup, that the engine was faulty, but the brakes were not fixed. Charles S. Mellen, President of the road was subpoenaed to tell why and further explain the management of the line. Mr. Mellen was already under fire as a result of the Westport (Conn.) wreck.

Wilson Starts Get-Together Move at White House Meeting.

Washington, June 21. An important conference bearing on the banking and currency situation was held at the White House. By invitation, Chairman Glass and the other Democratic members of the house committee on banking and currency met the president and discussed the outlook from every angle.
The conference was called primarily to placate members of the committee who have complained that the Glass-Owen bill was framed in secrecy.
Immediately after the conference broke up President Wilson said he had hoped that a get-together movement would result in assuring the passage of a banking and currency revision bill before the current session of congress came to an end.
In the conference room most of the talking was done by the president. Members who attended the conference said that the president pointed out there is at present an uneasy feeling in business circles, that money is tight, and these conditions were reflected in the market places. He said he thought it was the duty of the Democrats, now in complete control of the government, to pass a new monetary law coincident with action on the tariff.

COMPANY ORGANIZES FOR BUILDING ROAD

The Chillicothe-Bainbridge and Hillsboro Traction Company has been organized for the purpose of constructing an electric road between the three towns and a committee is now busily engaged securing titles for a right-of-way between Chillicothe and Bainbridge.

Those who have watched the proposition claim that the company means business, and will push matters rapidly so that within the next year the road may be constructed and the three towns united.

Farmers between Chillicothe and Bainbridge are not anxious to grant any right-of-way until they are sure that the present company will not abandon the project.

Following are the officers of the company formed this week: President, F. E. Ferneau, Secretary, Knox C. Wilson, Treasurer, R. H. Mallow, Directors, S. F. Seerest, Jonathan Van Horn, E. O. Hetherington and William Phibbs.

WORKING FOR BIG JULY FOURTH

Since the Encampment has come to an end and normal conditions exist once more, the attention of the committee of Odd Fellows in charge of the July Fourth celebration are turning their attention to that event.

The committee is entering into the celebration with right good will, and are booking attractions and shaping plans for handling the large crowd expected to attend. The celebration will be held at the Fair grounds, and all kinds of contests are being arranged, including some good racing.

GIRL WHO TRIED SUICIDE IS BETTER

Mrs. Levi Bobo, the woman who attempted suicide Wednesday morning by shooting herself in the left breast with a 22 caliber revolver, is recovering, and it is thought she will be fully recovered in the course of the next three or four weeks.

Dr. Howell removed the ball from her back Friday, the leaden pellet having penetrated the top of the left lung and lodged near the surface on the back.

DOCTORS PLAN WIDER FIGHT ON QUACKERY AND MEDICAL FRAUDS

Minneapolis, June 21.—Dr. Abraham Jacobi presided at the sixty-fourth annual convention of the American Medical Association, which began here June 16. The membership of the association last year increased from 34,283 to 37,913, while the membership of the fifty-two constituent state associations during the year grew from 79,021 to 79,538, according to the report of the secretary, Dr. Alexander Craig, of Chicago. There are 2,001 component county societies, organized in 2,961 counties in the United States. All the newest medical discoveries of the hour were discussed, and a wider campaign against quackery medical frauds was planned.

King George and Queen Mary Threatened by Suffragettes

FEARS were entertained for the safety of King George during the latest outbreak of militancy among the English suffragettes in London. Extra guards were placed about the king wherever he went. This interesting picture of the king and queen was snapped at a racing meet before these added precautions were taken. Queen Mary is reported as strongly opposed to the "votes for women" crusade. Her attitude has been one of the biggest stumbling blocks to the spread of suffragist beliefs among many Englishwomen, who might otherwise be enlisted in the "war."

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child—the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

CONVICT RETURNS BEGS FOR MERCY

Floyd Polly, colored, serving time in the penitentiary and who walked away from that institution a few days ago following the escape of Robert Holland, the young colored man sent to the penitentiary for shooting a policeman, walked into the penitentiary Friday evening and asked that he be not punished for taking French leave.

Polly then told of how he suspected that Robert Holland had left the prison to live with Polly's wife, and how he had laid in wait for Holland's appearance at the Polly home but Holland failed to show up.

"If he had come around I would have fixed him once for all," he told Warden Thomas.

So far Holland has not been recaptured, although the police throughout the state are keeping an eye open for him.

SPORT LETTER

There are two excellent reasons for the Phillies being the favorites in the betting for the National League championship. One is that they now are leading in the fight for the pennant, and the other is that they are better fortified for pitchers than any team in either of the big leagues. With seven twirlers who would give added strength to any team in the business, the Quakers are more powerful in this department than perhaps any team in the history of baseball ever has been. Nor does the pitching alone constitute the strength of the Phillies. They are a nifty aggregation in every other department of play, and with a fair share of luck—and it will not require as much as the New Yorks had last season in winning the pennant—the National league gonfalon will be theirs at the end of this season. New York seems to be the strongest contender of the Quakers, but has no real license to beat them out. As the Athletics seem to have the inside track for the American League flag, the prospects are good for the world's series being played entirely in Philadelphia next fall.

During the past week the Reds were the victims of a National league ruling that was largely instrumental in losing several games for them against the Bostons and New Yorks. In the last game with the Philadelphia, on Wednesday, of last week, Otto Knebe, second baseman of the Quakers, twice assaulted Manager Tinker at second base, taking advantage of Tinker's inability to leave the base to attack him. Tinker was not in a position to retaliate, yet when Knabe's suspension for assault was announced, Tinker, the innocent victim, was given the same punishment as the aggressor, simply because he was an unwilling and innocent

Pretty Tough On An Artistic Temperament

CY MORGAN, ATHLETIC CASTOFF NOW PITCHING SENSATION OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Philadelphia, June 20.—Countie Mack would like to have Cy Morgan back. Old Cy, who was not good enough for the Athletics a year ago and was sent to the minors, is figured, would help the weak twirling staff of Mack's team just now. Mack has kept the wires hot to Kansas City, where Morgan is pitching high grade ball, but Kansas City cannot spare him at this stage of the race, and all the flattering offers which Mack has made have been turned down. It only proves that it is a mistake for a major league club to let out a winning veteran before some of the phenomenal recruits have shown good. Pitchers of the ability of Morgan are not picked up every day. He was too valuable a twirler to be allowed to go back to the minors notwithstanding the fact that he had his wild spells. Morgan is sure to be in the big show again next season, even if Mack does not succeed in securing him. He won his first ten games pitched.

After this speedy shifting on the baseball map Jake was allowed to settle down in Memphis, where he played in 1909. His work looked good to the Brooklyn management, which purchased his release. Jake became the Dodgers' first baseman in 1910 and has held the job ever since. Besides his clever fielding Daubert is quite a slugger, his batting average showing .307 for 1911 and .398 for 1912.

BROOKLYN HAS STAR PLAYER

Daubert Besides Being One of Leading First Basemen Is Also Quite Handy With Stick.

John Daubert of the Brooklyn team, who led the National league first basemen in fielding last season, was born in Llewellyn, Pa., May 14, 1885. He began as a professional in 1907 with the Kent team of the Interstate league. After two months of pastiming the Interstate blew and Daubert joined the Marlon O. and P. league team. The following season Jake was drafted by Cleveland and turned over to Nashville, only to be recalled by the Naps a short time later and sold to Toledo, which in turn sold him to Memphis.

PURCHASERS HANDED A BIG GOLD-BRICK

The remainder of the D. T. & I. railroad is to sell at public auction at Ironton, Thursday of next week—unless the sale is postponed once more.

In view of the drastic measures taken as a result of the recent sale of the Ohio Southern division, some trouble may result in the coming sale.

Regarding the measures adopted following the other sale, the Ohio State Journal says:

"The holders of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad general lien and divisional first mortgage bonds, of which there are outstanding $1,253,990, who have deposited their bonds with the protective committee, are taxed very heavily, no matter whether they consent to the plan of reorganization which has been arranged, or withdraw their bonds. In fact, the reorganization plan for this part of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton system is one of the most drastic that has been suggested in some time. The bondholders, who once thought they were buying a first mortgage bond, are to receive on payment of $750, or 35 per cent of their original investment, two-year 6 per cent gold notes at 96, with a face value of $264.58, and stock to the amount of $1000, for every $1000 bond. This virtually works out as follows: For bonds which cost them originally a price between $750 and $900, the bondholders will have to pay 35 per cent additional in cash, making the net cost of these bonds anywhere between par and $120, and in return for which they receive a secured obligation of about $350 and $1000 stock representing but a partnership interest calling only for a profit when earned. Anyway you look at it the bonds were an expensive investment, and if the holder gets out whole, it will be only after a long period of years. On the other hand, if a bondholder does not wish to stand for the heavy assessment, he finds himself against a pretty expensive deal, for he cannot withdraw them without paying to the protective committee for expenses $125 for each $1000 bond."

"MONEY TRUST" AGAIN DRAGGED INTO ARENA BY ROBERT L. HENRY

Washington, June 20.—After Robert L. Henry, of Texas, chairman of the house committee on rules, presented a bill designed to pave the way for a renewal of the inquiry into the so-called money trust interesting developments were looked for.

With the Wilson administration and the responsible house leaders strongly opposed to the Henry bill or any other effort to renew the money trust inquiry at this time there seems to be absolutely no probability of favorable action on the measure at this session. In a statement accompanying the bill, Mr. Henry declares that Wall street conspirators are back of the present movement for banking and currency legislation and that "their only aim is to pass the Aldrich bill veneered over so as to fool the people."
